Song 5 O true God

Psalm 52 (Why do you boast of evil, O mighty man? The steadfast love of God endures all the day... But I am like a green olive tree in the house of God. I trust in the steadfast love of God forever and ever.)

O true God, Your mercy endures forevermore
O boaster in vanity, why boast in vain once more?

O mercy, O mercy, Your love forever stands
O mercy, O mercy, leave vanity's empty hands

You plot to do evil, scheme in the dark of night
Your tongue frames deceit, a double-edged knife
You love harm though good is near, your heart turned away
You speak lies though truth is plain, in your twisted way

O mercy, O mercy, Your love forever stands
O mercy, O mercy, leave vanity's empty hands

O true God, Your mercy endures forevermore
O boaster in vanity, why boast in vain once more?

You love destructive words, to curse and to harm
God will seize you, tear out your throat's alarm
The land of the living will destroy your name
You will perish forever, consumed by flame

O mercy, O mercy, Your love forever stands
O mercy, O mercy, leave vanity's empty hands

O true God, Your mercy endures forevermore
O boaster in vanity, why boast in vain once more?

I count the Lord my portion, my trust in Him alone
I trust not in riches, but in His mercy known
In the Lord's house I flourish like a green olive tree
I praise You always, wait on Your name for me

O mercy, O mercy, Your love forever stands
O mercy, O mercy, leave vanity's empty hands

O true God, Your mercy endures forevermore
O boaster in vanity, why boast in vain once more?

O True God
God
